Paulette J. Jones

SPEAKER BIO AND HEADSHOTS

Breath of Grace PUBLISHING

For event planners and hosts. Use whichever bio fits your program, website, or printed materials. Please use the text as written; if you need a different length, just ask.

Headshot. For programs, name cards, social posts, and anywhere the image appears small.

Portrait. For event websites, posters, and flyers that need a vertical image.

Please don't crop either photo above the shoulders or apply filters. Photo credit: Leon McDonald, Janel Lee Photography

Introduction to read aloud

About 45 seconds. For the emcee or host to read before Paulette speaks.

> Our speaker is Paulette J. Jones, an author and Bible teacher from Lexington, Kentucky. For twenty years, she was the faithful woman who served, prayed, fasted, and still felt she was never doing enough to stay right with God. Today she helps women understand that Christ has already secured the righteousness they have been striving to earn. She is the author of The Fractured Life of a BROKEN RIB: How Grace Heals What Performance Cannot Fix. Please welcome Paulette J. Jones.

Signature messages

- Stop Striving. Start Breathing. How Grace Heals What Performance Cannot Fix
- The Contract vs. The Gospel. When Your Relationship With God Becomes Transactional
- Let God Love You. For the Woman Who Knows the Theology but Struggles to Receive It
- Emerging from Isolation. Not All Support Is Good Support
- The Breath of Grace Retreat. From Fracture to Freedom: a one-day or weekend retreat

Full descriptions are on the Speaking page.

Short bio

About 100 words. For programs, event websites, and social posts.

Paulette J. Jones is an author and Bible teacher who helps Christian women understand that being right with God is received through faith in Jesus Christ, not earned or maintained through performance. A Jamaican-American raised in Lexington, Kentucky, she spent two decades striving to earn a righteousness she now teaches is a gift. Her debut book, The Fractured Life of a BROKEN RIB: How Grace Heals What Performance Cannot Fix, is Volume I of The Life of a BROKEN RIB Trilogy. She speaks with a teacher's precision, a sister's warmth, and the fire of a woman who has been set free.

Full bio

About 200 words. For press releases, conference websites, and media.

Paulette J. Jones is an author and Bible teacher who helps Christian women understand that being right with God is received through faith in Jesus Christ, not earned or maintained through performance.

A Jamaican-American raised in Lexington, Kentucky, Paulette was formed in Holiness church culture from age twelve. For two decades, she prayed, fasted, served, and tried harder, striving to earn a righteousness she now teaches is a gift. Her journey from performance to grace became the foundation of her writing and speaking.

Her debut book, The Fractured Life of a BROKEN RIB: How Grace Heals What Performance Cannot Fix, is Volume I of The Life of a BROKEN RIB Trilogy. In it, she introduces The Legalist's Shield™, a name for the self-made protection religious performance offers, and points readers to the protection only Christ provides: the breastplate of righteousness.

Paulette speaks to women's events, retreats, Bible studies, and ministry gatherings. Her signature messages include Stop Striving. Start Breathing., The Contract vs. The Gospel, Let God Love You, and Emerging from Isolation. She speaks with a teacher's precision, a sister's warmth, and the fire of a woman who has been set free.

Paulette is the founder of Breath of Grace Publishing and lives in Kentucky. Learn more at paulettejjones.com.

Booking

To invite Paulette, share your event's date, location, audience, theme, and expected attendance at paulettejjones.com/speaking-inquiry. She responds personally.